

My opinion is that the current regulations are there to protect the First Amendment. I have been unable to see improvement in the past with deregulation ie: telephone, airlines, etc. I feel the same about changing rules to serve corporations rather than the public. Haven't corporations had enough welfare for awhile?